

University
of
St Andrews

The Edinburgh and St Andrews
Research School of Chemistry

University of St Andrews and University of Edinburgh Chemistry Postgraduate Open Day

Why choose a Chemistry PhD?

An EaStCHEM information day for final year undergraduates.
Incorporating presentations from industry, academia and current students to highlight the potential benefits of studying for a PhD.
Including an industrial contribution from

Friday 12th February 2010
School of Chemistry
University of St Andrews

Travel and accommodation expenses supported

Provisional Timetable - 1pm - 6pm

Buffet Lunch; Tours of the department
Introduction and Welcome to EaStCHEM

Talks from Industrial Representatives on the Importance of PhD study
Refreshments and chance to talk to current graduate students
Talks from current graduate students on PhD study

Poster Session and interviews with Academic Staff relevant to your intended area of PhD study

Dinner for external candidates with staff and students

For registration and further information contact:

Dr. Andrew Smith ads10@st-andrews.ac.uk

Carolyn Busby cmb20@st-andrews.ac.uk